

I would like to express my support for the ARRL petition RM-10867. I agree with all aspects of the proposal with the exception of retaining a Morse Code requirement in the testing process. Many other countries have dropped requirements for Morse Code proficiency in their testing. Many government agencies reportedly have dropped their emphasis on Morse Code as well. I believe we should move into the next era of Amateur Radio as well.

Other aspects of the ARRL proposal would, I believe, improve the future of Amateur Radio in the United States.

Thank you,
David Hansen
